An entire new strain of computer viruses has just been uncovered!

Titanic virus..... Makes your whole computer go down.

Disney virus..... Everything in the computer goes Goofy.

Mike Tyson virus..... Quits after one byte.

Prozac virus..... Screws up your RAM but your processor doesn't care.

Arnold Schwarzenegger virus..... Terminates and stays resident. It'll be back.

Paul Revere virus ... This virus doesn't horse around. It warns you of impending disk attack, once if by LAN, twice if by C.

AT&T virus .. Every three minutes it reminds you what great service you are getting.

Verizon virus... Every three minutes it reminds you that you are paying too much for the AT&T virus.

GOVERNMENT ECONOMIST VIRUS- Nothing works, but all your diagnostic software says everything is fine.

CONGRESSIONAL VIRUS- Computer locks up, screen splits vertically with a message appearing on each half blaming the other side for the problem.

AIRLINE VIRUS- You're in Chicago but your data is in Singapore.

STAR TREK VIRUS- Invades your system and boldly goes where no virus has gone before.

Tell 'em you saw it in

JOKES, TRIVIA & JUST PLAIN FUN STUFF - PRINTED WEEKLY

"Is it proper for a man to profit from the mistakes of another?" a parishioner asked his minister. "Definitely not," was the preacher's answer. "Are you absolutely certain?" "Yes, my son, absolutely." "Okay. In that case, I wonder if you'd mind returning that $25 I gave you after my wedding last year?"

IDIOT SIGHTING - This man kept calling the court house three times in a row...but, he was dialing the wrong number. On the third call, my friend, the judge's assistant, beginning to lose patience, says to him..."SIR you KEEP calling...THIS IS THE WRONG NUMBER." Now, I swear to you...this happened ... I was standing RIGHT there... He responds frustrated, "It CAN'T be the wrong number, I'm hitting redial!" ...Stay alert...they walk among us!

WWI PUSHED DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME INTO LAW In 1916, Germany became the first country to officially adopt Daylight Saving Time. It was born out of an effort to conserve coal during World War I, and Britain, along with many other European nations, was quick to follow the Germans' lead. It wasn't until 1918 that the time change spread to the U.S. A year after entering the war, America began practicing DST as an electricity-saving measure. Most countries, including the U.S., ceased official observation of the switch following wartime.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT Daylight Saving Time doesn't begin at the stroke of midnight like you might expect it to. Rather, the time change is delayed until most people (hopefully) aren't awake to notice it. By waiting until two in the morning to give or take an hour, the idea is that most workers with early shifts will still be in bed and most bars and restaurants will already be closed.

Teacher: "If I gave you 2 cats and another 2 cats and another 2, how many would you have?"

Johnny: "Seven."

Teacher: "No, listen carefully... If I gave you two cats, and another two cats and another two, how many would you have?"

Johnny: "Seven."

Teacher: "Let me put it to you differently. If I gave you two apples, and another two apples and another two, how many would you have?"

Johnny: "Six."

Teacher: "Good. Now if I gave you two cats, and another two cats and another two, how many would you have?"

Johnny: "Seven!"

Teacher: "Johnny, where in the heck do you get seven from?!"

Johnny: "Because I've already got a cat!"

Q: Why couldn't the leopard play hide and seek?

A: Because he was always spotted.

BETCHA DIDN'T KNOW THIS! Until recently, losing an hour of daylight in the fall presented a problem for the candy industry. That's because Daylight Saving Time traditionally ended on the last Sunday in October, a.k.a. before Halloween night. Intense lobbying to push back the date went on for decades. According to one report, candy lobbyists even went so far as to place tiny candy pumpkins on the seats of everyone in the Senate in 1986. A law extending DST into November finally went into effect in 2007.
